Area's October Draft Quota Is 18 Men

The local draft quota remains high for October. 18 men from the Quad-Cities scheduled for induction and 30 others due to receive physical examinations next month, the selective service office in Edwardsville reported today.

Meanwhile 12 men slated for induction this month under jurisdiction of Local Board 181 Friday to begin serving two years of active duty with the Army.

They are: Ira Edward Hill and William Arthur Copeland Jr., all volunteers; and Paul Berry Jr., David Edward Merritt, Andrew Nicholas Angloff, William Joseph Diak, Donald Erickson, William Charles Papa, Theodor Junior Latin, Ronald Harry Bialk, Dale Eugene Doty and Leon Moray Sparks, inductees.

The original quota for September was 14 men but two who were scheduled for induction transferred.

The October quota for the entire county is 48 men, the same as this month. With 100 men to report for military physical exams compared to 155 last month.

Thirty men from the Quad-Cities will report for physicals in St. Louis Oct. 20.

The 60 men from this area due to take physicals this month are to report Friday.

The selective service office pointed out that men to be inducted this month include delinquents and volunteers as well as draftees who must be at least 23 but not yet 26 years of age as of Oct. 1.

To be inducted as a father according to present regulations, a man must be maintaining a bona fide family relationship with one or more children in his home, the office said.

If a condition exists or arises where the child not living with the registrant, he then is investigated as a non-father.

Investigator Position Legal, Mudge Rules

Legality of the position of special investigator in his office was reaffirmed today by State Attorney Dick H. Mudge, who said in 1959 the Illinois attorney general's opinion cited by Granite City Assistant Supervisor Lloyd D. Pein Jr. had been misinterpreted.

Instead of holding that the position is illegal, the opinion empowers the state attorney to employ staff members to investigate, interview witnesses and gather information relating to the duties of his office, Mudge told the Press-Record.

The 1959 opinion holds that the state attorney may not set up a police department in competition to the sheriff's office, Mudge said. He added that his investigator since July 1958, Richard Allen of Granite City, has no police powers other than those of any citizen.

Graham last week challenged a $2,000 fine levied on him for his position as an illegal expenditure.

There are similar posts in other large counties in Illinois, he learned.

A group of about 50 Granite Cityans met yesterday afternoon at the Knights of Columbus hall to form an organization to support Supk. of Streets William Warfield in his bid tonight to regain control of the Granite City street department.

The group plans to attend tonight's council session. During yesterday's meeting, the new organization heard talks by Alderman Mrs. Gabrielle Baines and Supk. of Streets Warfield. Worthen said persons attending the meeting were from all sections of the city.

Alcohol tax unit officers of the U. S. Treasury Department say Wiley Scott, 49, has admitted the operation of an alcohol still in his one-room home in the Eagle Park Acres area.

Panel Urges Women's Clubs To Seek Federal Tax Reform

A "do-it-yourself" program for women's clubs to push for tax reform on the national level was outlined by a panel of four members of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs during a community service meeting Thursday evening at the YMCA.

The panel members stressed that the federal government is taking over more and more responsibilities formerly held by state governments and individuals and as a result taxes have increased to a point of nearly halting initiative of individuals and industries.

The program, entitled, "Why bother about taxes?", pointed to the bi-partisan Helms-Baker bills in Congress, designed to reduce individual and corporate taxes over a period of five years to provide additional funds for self-improvement and investment purposes for continuing advancement of the country.

Panel members and the club's legislative chair, Mrs. Lillian Chaboudy, urged the 22 persons present to study the proposed bill and write their congressmen urging steps be taken to reduce federal taxes.

Defining taxes as "a compulsory contribution," Panel Member Mrs. Gayla Robertson explained that federal tax bills originated in the house of Representatives and stated, "It's up to you to tell your representatives what your feelings are on any new tax measures. There is no such thing as 'government money,' it's your tax money."

According to member Mrs. Vivian Davis, outlined the history of taxation and quoted from a speech by Patrick Henry that taxation without representation was bad, he should seek it with representation.

After the discussion, the award of the evening, an Illinois Blue Book, was presented to a guest, Mrs. Emily Seneff, president of the recently organized League of Women Voters.

It was announced that State Rep. Ralph T. Smith of Alton was unable to attend. Mrs. Edna Kolbrecher, president, was in charge.

Fumbles, Interceptions Costly As Pioneers Smash Granite City, 40-0

Fumbling for too many times against a club which will have to wait a long time before it again is handed so many scoring chances by the opposition, Granite City's Warriors were ground into the turf at Parsons Field, East St. Louis, Friday night by Assumption's Pioneers, 40-0.

The Warriors' unflinching beginning of the 1961 season, extended their losing streak to eight games. Granite City's most recent victory was last Sept. 25 in Madison, 7-0, and GCHS will play that same team Friday night in the annual Shrine benefit game here.

As was expected, Assumption's decided weight advantage in the line made itself felt, especially late in the game, but handoffs in the Warrior backfield were sloppy all evening and the six fumbles, five occurred before the ball-carrier had been hit.

GCHS lost the ball five times after hobbling it, and in almost every instance the Pioneers were in a position to score.

The clubs played a scoreless first quarter, but the first time the Warriors got their hands on the ball Coach Andy Sullivan pulled out the stops and set the fancy end-around, punt play which netted 44 yards, with Right End Larry Corey doing the tossing.

That one aerial gain was more than GC managed to get on the ground all evening.

Pass For First Score
Midway through the second period, Assumption broke the 0-0 deadlock when Quarterback Charlie Stufflebeum took a direct snap from center to Coach Martin's short punter, who flipped a three-yard pass to Paul Bauer in the right corner of the GC end zone.

The scoring drive carried 19 yards and was set up by Granite City's fumble on its own 15. Pat Brady missed on his extra point after the placement.

Four plays later, a fourth-down snap sailed over kicker Bill Lierman's head and Halfback Rich Smith pounced on the loose ball at the GC seven for the Pioneers. Stufflebeum carried three straight times and on the third cracked up the middle from the five to score with 1:25 left in the second period.

Blocked Point
Assumption scored in a big-zee manner early in the third quarter when Guard Pat Waggoner blocked Lierman's attempted punt at the GC 22. The deflected ball caromed straight into the air and was caught by Larry Reeve, who looked for all the world like a basketball player circling under a foul pop.

Brady split the uprights this time for a 19-0 Pioneer lead. The Warriors got their only real break of the game the next time the host got their hand on the ball.

This time it was a bad Assumption center which eluded kicker Craig Lambert and was downed on the Pioneer 27. A 15-yard penalty—Assumption was penalized a whopping 132½ yards during the evening—put the ball on the nine, and a GC drive was stalled at the Pioneer six.

Assumption really broke things open in the final period, with a major share of the credit belonging to defensiveman Bob Boze.

Boze Goes — 65 Yards
When GC took to the air in desperation, Boze was there to intercept on three occasions. He snared one of Larry Noblin's passes on the GC 35 and turned it into a 65-yard runback and a touchdown with 6:40 left in the game.

Ed Renollet stopped between an intended GC receiver and the ball at the Granite 18, and carried down to the three to set up the fifth Pioneer score.

A 15-yard penalty set the Pioneers back to the 18, but Fullback Bob Baker needed just one carry around the right side for another touchdown.

On the first play from scrimmage following Granite City again lost the ball via a fumble on its own seven. Two plays later, Halfback Rich Smith went two yards up the middle for the

Red Devils Drop Home Opener, 11-4

Venice's Red Devils were bedeviled by errors for the second straight time this season Friday afternoon. Bill Ohendorf's VHS baseball squad committed six mistakes in dropping a 11-4 decision to Aviston at Lee Park.

Losing Pitcher Pete Fields gave up nine hits, but only three runs. The 11 runs scored against him were earned.

The Devils had eight safeties themselves. "But we (as I) couldn't put them together," Ohendorf said.

Fields had two big innings in the MBC conference game, scoring five runs in the second and three in the third. The VHS gathered a pair of runs in both the second and fourth frames.

Ohendorf said Fields will hurt again tomorrow when VHS seeks its first victory of the fall diamond season at Triad. The Devils are 0-2 this year. Game time was 3:45 p.m.

Hearts, Mercer Are Bumped From I-C Playoffs Sunday By Collinsville, Pocahontas

Granite City's two entries in the Southwestern Illinois Inter-City Baseball league bid farewell to further competition in the league playoffs yesterday as both were defeated in the semifinal round of their respective division eliminations.

Sacred Heart, committing eight costly errors, was decimated by the Red division playoffs in Collinsville by the Boosters 15-3, while Mercer Funeral Home committed three errors in one frame which led to all the opposition's runs in a 3-1 victory.

Lower Jack Buente allowed only five hits, but a Mercer defensive letdown in the third inning was the deciding factor.

3 Uncared Runs
With two out, Buente walked Dave Puletti. The Mercer outfield muffed two chances for a third out, sending two runs across, and an infield boot allowed Jim Bruno to score the Braves' third run of the inning. All the runs were uncared as all scored without benefit of a base hit.

Griffith blanked Mercer in every frame but the fourth. His own hand threw lead to Mercer only tally, allowing Charles Joannuhammer to reach first. He stole second and came around on Rich Branding's single. Griffith then retired the next three men in order.

Seven-Run Sixth
At Collinsville, the Boosters broke up a relatively close game by pushing across seven runs in the sixth to knock out starter and loser Ron Parker. Left-hander Bob Vetter picked up the win on a seven-inning. Collinsville had 16 safeties.

The Boosters will meet Moose Lodge of East St. Louis next Sunday in a one-game playoff to determine the Red division's representative in the president's cup finals, a best two-out-of-three series which begins Oct. 1.

Pocahontas will play McArthur Glass in East St. Louis Sunday to select the Blue division representative.

School Tennis Court Resurfacing Delayed

Granite City high school tennis courts will not be resurfaced until next spring.

Charles E. Mahoney, Belleville low bidder at $3059, advised the district that he had misread the specifications and should have bid "nearly double" that amount. Holland Asphalt Co. had bid $5495 and Modern Asphalt and Paving bid $3140. Modern, like Mahoney primarily a road paving firm, said later when contacted by the district that it also had erred.

An inch-and-a-half asphalt coating was listed with a drop in grade of not more than an inch in ten feet. Two firms apparently failed to take into account that the grade requirement involves a thicker coating in many areas. School Engineer Marvin Dean reports.

The work originally was set for this summer. New bids will not be sought until next year.

Army Announces New Enlistment Policy

Sgt. Donald Laird, local U. S. Army recruiter, announced today that a new enlistment policy has been adopted whereby former enlisted men, who have been discharged for more than 90 days but less than 24 months, may be eligible for re-enlistment in the army without loss of rank held at the time of discharge.

Former enlisted members of the regular army, last separated in pay grades E-3 through E-7, and who are not members of a reserve component and passes an MOS listed as a shortage by current directives — may re-enlist in the grade held at discharge upon approval by the Department of the Army.

Laird added that former enlisted members of the regular army last separated in grade E-3 or E-4, and who possess an MOS not listed as an overage in current directives may be re-enlisted under the same directive. He also pointed out that former enlisted men qualifying under the above directives and who have been out over 24 months but less than 36 months may be re-enlisted with the loss of only one grade.

Interested applicants may apply at the army recruiting station at the city hall, Granite City or call TR. 6-2950 for further information.

RADIOACTIVE FALLOUT is explained by Civil Defense standing, to Paul Burke, East St. Louis, an employee of the A. O. Smith Corp. On the table at the left is a model fallout shelter which is being displayed by the A. O. Smith safety department to call workers' attention to civil defense materials available.

Model Fallout Shelter Gets Workers' Attention

A prize-winning, scale model family fallout shelter displayed at the A. O. Smith Corp. to promote Civil Defense interest has drawn so much attention it is being used a second time.

Built by Miss Susan Lee Scherger of Florissant, Mo., a student at Visitation Academy in St. Louis, for the annual St. Louis Science Fair, the shelter was put on display by Clifford E. Blankenship, plant safety director, to draw workers' attention to Civil Defense literature which was available.

"We put it on a table with the materials we got from the local Civil Defense office," Blankenship said, "and in almost no time the literature was all gone and we had to get more."

Part Of Safety Program

Blankenship said the idea was to promote employee interest in Civil Defense efforts. He said the plan is tied in with the plant's total safety program, which includes such off-the-job safety matters as highway and home accident prevention as well as the Civil Defense promotion.

Because the initial use of the model shelter proved such a success, the safety director said,

Dryer Overload Causes Blaze In Clothing

Venice firemen were summoned at 6:25 p.m. Saturday to the Laundromat, 300 Broadway, where clothing had caught fire in a dryer. The fire was confined to the machine, and an estimate of the damage to the dryer has not yet been made.

Most of the clothing was damaged, and the man who had placed it in the dryer was not immediately located. Firemen said the fire was due to overload of the machine with clothes.

It scorched walls, a roll of paper tumbled in the kitchen and a note pad next to the telephone. The front was blown off an automatic washer, and plaster was shattered in the bathroom and crooked in other rooms.

Firemen had to pull part of the kitchen wall apart to reach burning insulation. With the entire front door frame as well as the doors torn loose, the building was vacated and roped off as a safety precaution.

Mops in a utility area caught fire and were thrown into the yard by neighbors prior to the arrival of firemen. Food and clothing also were removed from the house, and electric power was turned off to prevent further possibility of fire.

Marmion-Young Nuptials Saturday

Mrs. Ethel Young and Frederic L. Marmion were married Saturday evening at St. John United Church of Christ on Nameoki road.

Rev. Paul Surbey performed the ceremony at 7:30 o'clock before the altar decorated with flowers and foliage. A reception was held afterward at the DAV hall.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Comer Armour, 1425 Sixth street, Madison, Mo. Marmion's parents are Mrs. Frances Westbrock, 2901 Wayne avenue, and Louis F. Marmion, 2234 Bryan avenue.

A program of wedding music was furnished by Mrs. Surbey, soloist, who sang "Always" and the Lord's Prayer, accompanied at the organ by Miss Carol Elvert.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Emil Gerkin, a brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom, ushers were Howard Myatt and Edward Coulson. The bride wore a turquoise suit with a matching hat and bones and white accessories. She carried a tailored cascade of white gladioli. Mrs. Gerkin was in a light blue suit accessorized with beige. Her flowers were pink gladioli.

The bride's mother wore orchid tulle, while the bridegroom's mother selected turquoise nylon over taffeta. Both wore white carnation corsages. The newlyweds will reside at 2901 Wayne avenue after a honeymoon at the Lake of the Ozarks.

EDITORIAL

Approval Or Rejection Of Entire SIU Report Are Not The Only Alternatives

Benefits that can accrue from the Granite City pastorean reorganization study are so valuable that officials must not seek to destroy them in the course of a partisan struggle. Since the dispute with the street superintendent is admittedly political, the mayor is treading on dangerous ground when he says that the council should side with him or "throw out the entire SIU study."

The university's astute and thorough analysis of the municipal government contains many meritorious proposals, but it was never intended to be accepted in its entirety without full thought by the governing body. Aldermen, who will have a major voice in deciding the Davis-Warfield disagreement, have wisely been acting on individual sections of the SIU report, rather than approving it in toto.

The current dispute must be resolved if there is to be orderly improvement of Granite City streets. Eventually, the question of an elected or appointed street official also will be decided. But the latter issue should not be allowed to become a major issue, which has been rendered impossible at this point by the political feud. A cooling-off period is indicated.

We like the council's procedure of moving a step at a time on the reorganization, and it should be noted that significant progress has been made. One individual's efforts to move faster than the council's official authorization would tend to wreck the entire governmental modernization program.

Women Voters' League Can Foster Public's Understanding Of Issues

That the quality of government greatly affects everyone is an obvious truth, but one that needs to be remembered and acted upon; good government can be achieved only when individuals fulfill their duties as citizens. The new League of Women Voters will have an opportunity to foster the citizenship and public understanding essential in this or any other community.

We neither hope nor expect that the league will become a tool of any party or clique, for this would end its standing and usefulness. There should be no infiltration by political party members, but the league should be a place where individuals, because of the control and influence they might seek would be meaningless if the public lost respect for the organization.

On the other hand, the league need not fear to take a stand on an issue or a candidate if it exercises judgment and acts according to facts rather than secondary or false issues. Such groups have been particularly successful elsewhere in helping to determine the present candidates' backgrounds and viewpoints for full comparison by voters. Forums for competitors to explain their platforms and opinions can be of immense value, enlightenment and impact when conducted by a detached group such as the women's league.

There can be hearty accord with the league's view that "good government cannot be taken for granted." The caliber of public agencies' integrity and efficiency can be as high as Quad-Cityans are willing to strive for, but is not likely to be higher than the citizenship that is demonstrated.

Law Enforcement Task Easier With Uniform Tavern Closing

Wood River ministers, who have now joined Quad-City pastors in helping to keep the county tavern hours issue alive, will lend their wisdom to the full discussion and study that must be made before a question is resolved. County board members should do much soul-searching—and give thought to this year's experience in Venice—before deciding on their vote at the December meeting.

What has happened in Venice is pertinent because it touches on the key issue of non-uniform tavern closing and its effect on an area's reputation and ability to maintain law and order. The ministers fear that the county board's July vote for longer tavern hours jeopardizes the hard-won improvement in this county's standing and may attract lawless elements. In Venice, late hours lured hundreds of Missouri patrons on weekend nights and violence steadily increased. Beatings, shootings, gambling and other violations became commonplace, and there was growing distrust for law enforcement in general. Now that a law has been re-instated, and strictly enforced, several of the more notorious establishments have gone out of business, the police department's workload has dropped sharply and streets are safer for each citizen. The difference has been nothing short of dramatic.

Pleasant, safe surroundings in which to live and raise a family are an integral part of the era that has come to Venice. Such a clear example of what is at stake in uniformity or non-uniformity of tavern hours can hardly be taken lightly by the supervisors and assistant supervisors of Madison county.

Area Had To Speak For Itself On Space Laboratory Site Bid

"Speak for yourself, John," was good advice when written a century ago and it is still sound, being followed last week by Port District and Chamber of Commerce officers in reporting local site advantages to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Whether the Chain of Rocks Canal area will be chosen for a $60 million space flight laboratory remains to be seen, but Quad-Cityans at least have assurance that the government has heard the full local story. This is particularly important in view of NASA Administrator James Webb's comment that the availability of water transportation will be a principal consideration in the decision.

Not only was the initial St. Louis Chamber of Commerce proposal lacking in detail on the local site, but the four-local application was weighted to advance the cause of only one site—Columbia Bottoms in Missouri. This became crystal clear last week with the offer of free land use plus a million-dollar endowment for space research. "Faint heart never won fair lady," it would seem, nor will a space laboratory be sought for the Illinois Metropolitan Area with sincerity by its "friends" in a neighboring community.

The man who suggested that charity begins at home probably never went out to raise funds by public subscription.

If you are short on virtues, let me suggest Humility. It has long been known as one of the better virtues. In fact it is such a fine virtue that some associate it with greatness. John Ruskin had this to say on the subject, "I believe the first test of a truly great man is his humility."

It is no trouble to be humble when we look at the true nature of things. We are even dependent on someone else for the water and air we use. Yes, we can agree with Dickens, "Umbles we are," "Umbles we have been," "Umbles we shall still be."

There are many examples of humility in your community and in your history books. Ben Franklin once gave this advice: "In humility imitate Jesus and Socrates." Franklin had good advice for people of all times. Most of the time, we find those who are humble have a true inner strength that enables them to speak without harsh tones to their fellow man because they are secure in the knowledge that they are strong in moral fiber that built their character. As we see it lived in others, if a time do not see it surprised if this virtue becomes your very own.

Senior Citizen Program Plan Meeting Thursday

Members of the Tri-City Ministerial Association and civic and fraternal groups who have members 60 years of age and over have been invited to attend a meeting in the YMCA auditorium at 1 p.m. Thursday for the purpose of organizing a senior citizens' program.

Mrs. Frieda O'Guin, who will be in charge of the program, said the often-discussed project is being planned to help meet the leisure time needs and interests of older citizens in the Quad-Cities.

Among topics which are slated for discussion Thursday are the renewal of interest in hobbies, sharing of hobbies by teaching others, development of new hobbies, social singing, movies, lectures, neighborhood Bookmobile service, limited physical classes, sightseeing trips, organized recreation and the providing of topical information as to social security, services and benefits.

Such a program would be sponsored by the local YMCA, and Mrs. O'Guin said it is hoped to form neighborhood groups wherever transportation is a problem.

Churches are being urged to mention the proposed plans in weekly bulletins and other organizations are being asked to inform their members of the tentative plans.

Home Repairs Lead Again In GC Building

For the second consecutive week this month, the cost of home repairs and alterations was higher than that of construction in any other category in Granite City, $13,589, versus the week's total at $30,480 and the September figure for authorized new construction at $32,940.

The largest single permit issued by Building Inspector Earl Bloomquist and City Clerk A. L. Stevens went to Joseph E. Kimbro, for a five-room residence with one bath at 2224 Dewey avenue and estimated to cost $8500. A wood siding exterior is planned.

Other permits went to Bethel Chapel Church, $3000 for outfitting property at 2100 Dewey avenue with stairs, electricity, heating and plumbing; and Lady Minerva Candles, $600 for an electric display sign with 20-feet of display space at 1341 Twentieth street.

Garages And Carports — The city also receives other revenues for special purposes. Included among these are the property tax rates for maintenance of sewers, police and firemen's pension funds, retirement, civil defense and the public library. And, in addition to the property tax collection, the city receives approximately $200,000 a year in motor fuel tax allocations from the state.

These funds are a distribution of the state tax on gasoline which are deposited to the credit of Illinois municipalities in the treasury in Springfield at the rate of approximately 85 per cent.

"They are expendable only upon approval of the state highway department for specific projects. These funds are an important factor in long range capital planning."

The city's revenue picture is somewhat confused by the method set up by the city of apportioning and transferring the various revenues, both property tax and miscellaneous, to the several funds. The financial reports are so set up as to make an identification of total revenues difficult. In following the suggestions here, classification of accounts and fiscal reporting should be more easily corrected.

Property Tax 63% Source of City's Income

(This is the 27th in a series of articles based on a reorganization study of city government in Granite City by Southern Illinois University.)

"Like most municipalities," the STU team points out, "Granite City relies heavily on the property tax for its major source of revenue. In the fiscal year ended April 30, 1960, Granite City received a total of $1,140,613 in revenues for general corporate purposes. Of this amount, $713,164, or 63%, was derived from property taxes."

"The amount of revenue received for general purposes by sources follows, listing the percentage of income:

"Property taxes, $713,164, 63%; Housing authority in lieu of taxes, $361, less than 1%; Sales tax, $200,145, 18%; Licenses, permits and fines, $131, 12%; and miscellaneous, $1096, less than 1%."

Special Taxes — "The city also receives other revenues for special purposes. Included among these are the property tax rates for maintenance of sewers, police and firemen's pension funds, retirement, civil defense and the public library. And, in addition to the property tax collection, the city receives approximately $200,000 a year in motor fuel tax allocations from the state."

These funds are a distribution of the state tax on gasoline which are deposited to the credit of Illinois municipalities in the treasury in Springfield at the rate of approximately 85 per cent.

"They are expendable only upon approval of the state highway department for specific projects. These funds are an important factor in long range capital planning."

The city's revenue picture is somewhat confused by the method set up by the city of apportioning and transferring the various revenues, both property tax and miscellaneous, to the several funds. The financial reports are so set up as to make an identification of total revenues difficult. In following the suggestions here, classification of accounts and fiscal reporting should be more easily corrected.

"Accounts payable are listed and typed in the comptroller's office and reproduced for each council member. The council meets the 1st, 3rd and 5th Mondays of each month and a list of accounts payable is presented at each meeting. The amount of all invoices and persons or firms to whom payment is due are entered in the 'purchases journal' and given a voucher number. The vouchers are entered in the individual vendor's subsidiary ledger sheet."

Payment Procedure — "Upon approval for payment, the check number, payee and amount are listed in the check register, separate book of spread sheets. The payment is entered in the vendor's subsidiary account reversing the payable item or items. Since all checks are paid from the same bank account, there is no problem of multiple checks to a vendor supplying materials to more than one fund."

"At the end of each month, the comptroller summarizes the purchases journal by fund and makes the entries in the fund ledger accounts. He also summarizes the expenditures by detailed item (the same detail as shown in the appropriations ordinance). This he does monthly on a worksheet set up in the same order as the appropriations ordinance. Since he has no codification of expenditures, he must rely on knowledge of vendors, memory of the invoices or by checking the invoices to properly characterize and record the detailed objects of expenditure."

"When expenditures must be made in fund accounts before sufficient revenues have been credited, a deficit balance is carried. Such balances are more common in the period before the collections are received. Since the general bank account carries all funds, these deficits in collections exist only on paper."

"The city maintains most of its funds in one bank account from which payments are made and into which revenues are deposited. The general bank account for most funds and the bank accounts for the police pension fund and the motor fuel tax fund are kept in the First City National Bank. The firemen's pension fund bank account is in the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank. All other funds are in the general bank account."

Enthusiast? Surprised? Excited?

Sure, wouldn't you be? State Farm has added new benefits for its careful-driving, Illinois policyholders. State Farm policyholders are entitled because these new benefits are in effect right now. They're only mildly surprised, however... State Farm has added new benefits before without increasing rates. But, they're really excited, and you will be, too, about the benefits added to State Farm's coverage. Two new Safeguards against Cancellation and Surcharge give written protection against cancellation due to accidents plus the assurance that State Farm's low rates will stay low (no surcharges as a penalty for accidents or traffic violations). And, there are five more additional benefits. Call me today or stop in for more information.

Rev. Nyberg Attending Episcopal Convention

The Rev. David E. Nyberg, rector of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church, is attending the general convention of the Episcopal Church in Detroit. It began yesterday and will continue through Sept. 18.

He is one of four clergical deputies from the Diocese of Springfield. Also in the delegation are the Rev. W. John Harris, Cantonale, and the Ven. John M. Young, Alton. Four laymen from the diocese also will attend.

The general convention, the Episcopal Church's highest legislative assembly, is composed of a 670-member House of Deputies (clergy and laymen) and the 120-member House of Bishops. They must concur in order to adopt legislation.

Among matters to come before this body are the much-heralded "Blaise-Pike" proposals, the unity schemes of India (Lanka and North India-Pakistan), alcoholism, withdrawal from the National Council of Churches, election of a new bishop for Cuba, and the perennial question of a change of name.

A highlight will be presentation of the United Thank Offering by women of the church. This offering is expected to be well over $3,000,000.

Sessions will be held in Detroit's new convention center—Cobo Hall. Fourteen thousand persons are expected to attend the opening service. During Father Nyberg's absence, services at St. Bartholomew's will be conducted by the Rev. William L. Zahay of East St. Louis.

A United Fund Agency

Visiting Nurse Available To Quad-Cityans

Are you an acute or chronically ill person, or do you know of such a person that is in desperate need of qualified nursing care?

Such nursing service is available to anyone in the Quad-Cities, regardless of race, creed, or their ability to pay, through the work of The Visiting Nurse Association, another United Fund supported agency.

Organized in January 1918, The Visiting Nurse Association was the first health agency in neighboring St. Clair county. Through the years, the means of financing the agency has changed, however, the purpose for which it was organized has remained the same.

In providing nursing care to anyone, it is the hope of the association to promote and develop in the community adequate public health facilities and programs in cooperation with other health and welfare agencies. The service is available to everyone in need of such service with one qualification—that they be under the care of a private physician.

An initial visit is made to each patient. No further visits are made until authorized by the physician in charge of the case.

Bedside Care

The services rendered are: bedside care or treatment on an hourly basis; teaching by demonstration the care of the patient to someone in the home; supervising the care of the patient; demonstrating the care of the newborn; and securing early diagnosis and treatment for patients not under the care of a physician—this type call is limited to one visit.

Also, long-term observation of the tuberculosis patient, his or her contacts, and those persons suspected to have tuberculosis; maintaining sickroom equipment for loan on a short-term basis; and rehabilitation nursing.

Rehabilitation nursing is offered to assist patients who have crippling defects from illness or injury to regain maximum body use by instructing the patient and their families the procedure for passive or active range of motion as prescribed by the attending physician. Through

By Press-Record Staff Photographer

VISITING NURSE Miss Mabel Harrison is shown here entering her car after making a call in the Quad-Cities area. When asked why she was getting into her car from the passenger's side, Miss Harrison replied, "I was trained to never enter my car from the street side."

This program, many patients who would have been confined to bed, have been rehabilitated sufficiently to assume responsibility for many of their activities for daily living.

Miss Mabel Harrison, 1633 Fourth street, Madison, is the visiting nurse for the local area. Working out of the home office in East St. Louis, Miss Harrison spends two-thirds of her time in this area, which amounts to five afternoons a week with an average of about five calls per afternoon. Emergency calls on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays are taken if referred by the physician.

One of Miss Harrison's calls in the area is to a Granite City woman who has been paralyzed from the waist down since Nov. ember 1938. Miss Harrison has been visiting her three times a week since September 1959. "I don't know what I'd do without her help," said the woman to a Press-Record reporter.

The woman, who spends many an afternoon alone except for the anxiously-anticipated visit from Miss Harrison which is all too short, has four children who take care of her when they get home from school.

Miss Harrison, who has been working in this area for 13½ years, usually averages about an hour at each stop. There she may do anyone of a number of things but frequently the visit is made to administer an injection or change a dressing.

"The nursing service is limited to the area served by the United Funds of East St. Louis, Belleville and the Tri-Cities. There are nine nurses, two secretaries, and a director in the East St. Louis office, including Miss Harrison.

The association is financed by the three United Funds and contracts service with the St. Clair County Cancer Society, the St. Clair County Tuberculosis Association, the Pleasant View Sanatorium, the Illinois Public Aid Commission, Township Relief Offices, and patient's fees.

The Tri-Cities United Fund allocation to the association is $3300 which is the same figure arrived at last year. It covers the prorated expense for time spent in this area—about two-thirds of the time of one nurse—Miss Harrison, and one-twelfth of the time of one secretary plus a share in the office expense.

The cost of the visiting nurse is $3.25 per hour, but a sliding fee scale is used for those who cannot afford the full cost. The scale is based on the families' weekly income and the number in the family. The fee ranges from a high of $3.25 an hour to nothing.

Free visits are provided through the United Funds for those who are unable to pay for the service.
